The Snohomish County Sheriff's Office Major Crimes Unit has not added or removed any names from the list this morning, but did make two slight changes to the names of those missing, based on input from family members.

The release of information is limited to name, age and city of residence. Detectives have carefully reviewed each of these cases based on available information and conversations with family members. It is presumed that the people on this list are missing in connection with the landslide. Anyone who should not be on this list is asked to call the Sheriff's Office tip line immediately at (425) 388-3845.
