Snohomish County, Washington

Whatever you’re up for—whether camping or kayaking, shopping or restaurants, aviation or the arts—SNOHOMISH COUNTY invites you to open up...

...To life, adventure, discovery and the potential of an unforgettable tomorrow.

WHY SNOHOMISH COUNTY
A beautiful balance of the Pacific Northwest’s lush forests, sprawling farmlands and rocky mountain trails, Snohomish County is the ideal destination for those looking to get lost in all the right ways. Located a mere 30 minutes north of Seattle, and just 45 minutes north of Sea-Tac International Airport, Snohomish County attracts local visitors seeking fun one-day getaways as well as those looking for longer weekend adventures.

The area offers first-class conference hotels, Victorian manors, quaint waterfront inns, secluded bed and breakfasts and rustic retreats. Adding to the allure, accommodations in Snohomish County are, on average, 30% less than downtown Seattle, providing a unique opportunity to enjoy the city’s attractions as a day tour from your more serene Snohomish hub.

THE GEOGRAPHY
Consider Snohomish County your personal lookout point over some of the Pacific Northwest’s most breathtaking views. From our national scenic byway you could spot a mountain goat grazing on a distant craggy peak, gaze at cascading waterfalls, or admire hillsides awash in wild flowers and local berries.

There is plenty of scenery once you’re off the road, too. Watch the sun set while dining at a waterfront restaurant, enjoy awe-inspiring views from aboard a ferry in the middle of Puget Sound, or test your pioneering skills as you traverse mountain trails on foot and rushing rivers by kayak.
