Free Upcoming Workshop to Focus on Shoreline Property Protection

Local marine resource organizations join together to bring shoreline protection resources to landowners

STANWOOD, Wash., Oct. 10, 2017— Snohomish and Island County residents interested in learning how they can protect and maintain their shoreline property are invited to attend a free workshop at the Lake Goodwin Community Club on Saturday, October 14, 2017.

The Shoreline Landowner Workshop, hosted by the Northwest Straits Foundation and the Snohomish County Marine Resources Committee, will feature a presentation by Jim Johannessen, a coastal geologist. Participants will also receive information on free site visits by a private, shoreline management professional to learn how to protect their property.

Shoreline Landowner Workshop

When: October 14, 2017 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Where: Lake Goodwin Community Club located at 17323 42nd Ave NW, Stanwood, WA

What: Workshop topics include how to manage beach and bluff erosion, enhancing beach access, and native vegetation for slope stability and habitat
