

Contact: Liza Patchen-Short
Children's Mental Health Liason
Liza.Patchen-Short@snoco.org
425-388-7254

Snohomish County Resiliency Conference 2018 Announced

EVERETT, Wash., January 12, 2018 –Today, Snohomish County Department of Human Services announced the details for the 2018 Resiliency Conference.

What: Resiliency Conference

When: February 28th 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and March 1, 2018 8:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Where: Angels of the Wind Conference Center, Everett, WA 98201

Who: Teachers, social service agencies, private sector, and interested community members.

Keynotes: Nadine Burke Harris and Laura van Dernoot Lipsky

Why: Our goal is to design and implement a skill building resiliency conference for social service staff, school personnel, and community members in Snohomish County. This conference will equip over 500 attendees to go back to their workplace to implement new skills with the youth and families they serve.

Description: FREE Event with workshops both days.

Sponsored by: Snohomish County Human Services, North Sound Behavioral Health Organization, Educational Service District 189, Amerigroup, Coordinated Care, Washington State's Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children, Molina, United Healthcare, Community Health Plan of Washington.

For more information: Contact Liza Patchen-Short, 425-388-7254, Snohomish County Children's Mental Health Liaison

###