

For release: April 30, 2010

Contact: Tina Hokanson, Communications Specialist, 425-388-3789

County places load limit on Locust Way bridge

Swamp Creek Bridge #504 is on Locust Way just south of 231st Street SW in south Snohomish County. The county has placed a load limit on the bridge that will affect trucks that weigh more than 20 tons.

The limit is now 20 tons for AASHTO 1 type trucks that are normally allowed 25 tons. The limit is now 32 tons for AASHTO 2 type trucks that are normally allowed 36 tons

The weight limit will remain in effect until after Snohomish County's bridge crew completes repairs later this summer. Repair work is likely to occur in August, but the date has not yet been determined.

For information on road projects in Snohomish County visit the county's web page, www.co.snohomish.wa.us, and type "Roads Central" in the search box; call 425-388-3137; or e-mail transportation@snoco.org.

#