Approximately 160 linear feet of native soils eroded to within 4 feet of the Index Galena Road shoulder at Mile Post 5.8 during a storm event in the spring of 2011. Snohomish County Public Works proposes to stabilize the existing roadway embankment by constructing a 160-foot long by 40-foot wide lightweight buttress. An 8x25 foot railroad ballast foundation with geogrid layers would be constructed at the base of the proposed buttress, approximately 32 to 35 feet from the existing edge of pavement. Three finger (trench) drains extending down the slope approximately 55 feet from the foundation would be installed. The slope will be covered with mulch and topsoil and seeded with a native planting mixture.

Pursuant to SCC 30.70.050(2), this notice is being issued for the land disturbing activity as part of this project.
