Snohomish County Executive Dave Somers proposed and the County Council has appropriated a total of $47M to support businesses and workers negatively impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The appropriated funds were used for grants programs to support small businesses, aerospace companies, and Snohomish County communities. In addition, funds were appropriated to support strategy implementation by the Economic & Workforce Recovery Task Force.

Response to COVID-19

- 5,048 workers supported by response grants
- 309 businesses received the Small Business Relief, Recovery, & Resiliency (R3) Grant in the Response Phase
- 20 businesses received the First in Flight Fund (F3) in the Response Phase
- 271 jobs retained by the F3 Grant
- 2397 workers supported by the F3 Grant in the Response Phase
- 11 companies received a total of $2,480,560 for the Aerospace Employment Recovery & Retraining Program
- $2.2 million distributed in County-City grants
- 412 small businesses received grants through County-City partnership

Recovery from Economic Impacts

- 1400+ businesses received support for recovery
- 2551 workers supported by R3 grants for recovery
- 1145 employees will participate in the Aerospace Employment Recovery & Retraining Program
- $2,480,560 in grants awarded to 11 companies
- 800 businesses supported by additional Task Force recommendations
- 22 aerospace businesses supported by direct grants

Inclusive Resiliency

- $16 million for the resiliency of small businesses
- 227 businesses received R3 grants for resiliency
- 455 businesses supported in the Resiliency Phase
- 964 workers supported for Resiliency building
- 84 Aerospace related jobs retained
- 16 Aerospace Companies served

- 600+ workers supported by the R3 Grant during Resiliency Phase

Last Updated: 3/23/2020