The language of proposed SCLCR 40(d)(4) refers to "the last day of the confirmation period in SCLCR 40(d)(1)". If the proposed revisions are adopted, then the reference should be changed to "the last day of the confirmation period in SCLCR 40(d)(2)".

SCLCR 40(d)(1) Trials: If the parties stipulate to a portion of the trial to be conducted remotely, is that presented to the Court on the day of Trial? Perhaps a motion to adopt or a presentation should occur 21 days in advance (two or three weeks?) before trial so the Court can order and the parties can prepare accordingly.

SCLCR 40(h) Reporting for Trial: This currently is worded confusingly, as it implies that advance notice and granting of permission is required for remote appearances, but there doesn't seem to be a procedure set out for that to occur.
